The Complete Directory for People with Chronic Illness

Winner of a Bronze 2006 National Health Information Award
Sponsored by Consumer Health Publishers Association SM

“... A practical tool for librarians in public, academic, and medical libraries, and for health and social workers, physicians and patients seeking help.”

–Choice

“A “one stop” source for general information on...chronic conditions... The directory information is most helpful ...This is the place to start for general information on chronic illness... it contains the kind of information that any public library would use regularly ...”

–Booklist

“The strong points of [the directory] are the comprehensiveness of the resources and the services...[it] unites much of the information represented in three different directories: Encyclopedia of Associations, Research Centers, and The Self-Help Directory... The cost and space effectiveness of purchasing a single rather than multiple directories is obvious. This directory is important for people with chronic illness, their families, health care personnel, and librarians and fits in health care collections of hospitals and health center libraries.”

–Bulletin of the Medical Library Association

“Illness entries are easy for a non-medical person to understand and the entries for the resources are concise...The reference tool is a solid purchase for any library needing to provide information to users on chronic illnesses. It is particularly well suited for consumer health and public libraries.”

–ARBA

“... combine[s] pertinent support and resource information about...commonly occurring chronic diseases and conditions in one practical volume...Summing Up: General readers; undergraduates and technical program students; health care professionals.”

–Choice

“...The book is easy to use...This comprehensive reference tool is a valuable resource for physicians, their patients, and their families, as well as librarians and those in the social work field. Recommended for all collections.”
