“Reliable and comprehensive, this resource offers coverage of an extensive range of products and services for people with disabilities... The consistent arrangement of entries allows for effortless movement between chapters, sections and topics... materials [are] easily accessible; breadth across topics and resources...and thorough contact information make up for any deficiency in depth. Recommended for all readers.”

- Choice

“This is a one-stop sourcebook linking disabled persons with specialized products, resources, books and services. Creating a starting point for individuals and professionals, the directory is complete...information is easy to access. No other reference tool exists to meet the special needs of the disabled in one convenient resource for information.”

- Library Journal

“The Complete Directory for People with Disabilities has emerged as a vital tool for locating resources and services for people with physical and mental disabilities...The most directly comparable work, Resources for People with Disabilities: A National Directory, is not updated as often...and is not as well indexed. Libraries considering purchase of either should go with The Complete Directory for People with Disabilities.”

- ARBA

“This is an essential reference for people with disabilities, their families, and caregivers. This edition contains new and updated contact information for many of the listings. It is a valuable resource.”

- Doody's Review

“There are other directories for the disabled...but none contain the breadth of information. The disabled, their families and professionals working them will find them invaluable resources... Academic and medical libraries serving professionals should purchase.”
