

518-789-8700
800-562-2139
Fax: 518-789-0556
E-mail: books@greyhouse.com
www.greyhouse.com

4919 Route 22
PO Box 56
Amenia, NY 12501

For Immediate Release

August 20, 2018

Contact: Jessica Moody, VP Marketing
Grey House Publishing
(800) 562-2139 x101
jmoody@greyhouse.com

Grey House Publishing announces the Third Edition of *American Environmental Leaders: From Colonial Times to the Present

Grey House Publishing is proud to announce the publication of the third edition of American Environmental Leaders: From Colonial Times to the Present.

This two-volume edition has been significantly revised and expanded with new biographies of individuals important to the modern day environmental movement. This volume covers the confluence of the multifaceted environmental movement and its protagonists' many heroic acts on behalf of the natural world, over a 200 year period of history. Along with historical environmental champions, we include living forward thinkers and doers, those who conceive and implement new best practices and positive versions for the future.

Few subjects arouse the passions the way the environment does. How will global warming affect our future? How will we feed an ever-increasing population and how can that food be made safe for consumption? Who decides how land is developed? How can we best protect our water supply? How can environmental policies be made fair for everyone, including ethnic groups, women, children, and the poor?

A comprehensive and diverse collection of biographies of the most important figures in American environmentalism, this resource provides extensive coverage of over 399 individuals. In addition to the scientists who have analyzed how human actions affect nature, readers are introduced to poets, landscape architects, presidents, painters, activists, even actors and musicians, along with others who have forever altered how we think about the environment.

There are 20 brand new essays, primarily focusing on recent environmental leaders in this most recent edition. Six new contributors have been included in the third edition to bring the total to 47 writers and editors with deep knowledge and interest in the multifaceted American environmental movement.

An updated timeline details important firsts in areas vital to the environment, and its protection. Things like accomplishments of various social movements, significant legislation, and technological advances can all be found here.

This volume also includes an expanded primary documents section that provides background context and promotes understanding of important environmental articles, speeches, and legislation. An annotated bibliography and a general index complete the text.

FREE ONLINE ACCESS

Buyers of the print edition receive free online access on the popular Salem Press platform. With unlimited users and remote access included, your students and researchers can now search this amazing collection of data, anytime & anywhere, all just a click away.

This important resource will prove useful to the reference collections of public libraries, university libraries and environmental studies departments along with high school libraries

American Environmental Leaders: From Colonial Times to the Present

Softcover ISBN: 978-1-68217-731-0

994 pages (Two Volumes)

Price: $255.00

Editorial Director: Laura Mars

Publisher: Leslie Mackenzie